

Corporate responsibility and emerging technologies

How nanotechnologies are shaping the CSR agenda

June 4th 2010

Hosted by:

FRESHFIELDS BRUCKHAUS DERINGER

10.00-10.30	Registration and Coffee
10.30-10.50	Science, Trust and Corporate Responsibility	Dr Aileen Allsop, AstraZeneca and co-chair of Science & Trust Expert Group
	Panel Session One
10.50-11.10	The nano market and where nanotechnologies may be used in your business	Dr Alan Smith
11.10-11.30	Nanotechnology and CSR: what are companies doing in practice? Findings of DEFRA sponsored business consultation project	Dr Chris Groves, ESRC BRASS Centre , Cardiff University
11.30-11.50	Responsible approaches and SMEs	Arved Luth, Forumnano , Germany
11.50-12.30	Questions to the panellists
12.30-13.15	LUNCH
	Panel Session Two
13.15-13.35	Nanotechnology and regulation	Dr Elen Stokes, ESRC BRASS , Cardiff University
13.35-13.55	Emerging Technologies and litigation risk	Andrew Austin, Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer
13.55-14.15	Nanotechnologies and insurance	David Baxter, Lloyd's of London
14.15-14.35	Consumer expectations of nanotechnologies and public involvement	Dr Mike King
14.35-15.00	Questions to panellists
15.00-15.15	Corporate responsibility and emerging technologies how companies can respond	Hilary Sutcliffe, Director, MATTER

RSVP: drclientseminars@freshfields.com

Venue address: Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer, 65 Fleet Street, London EC4Y 1HT